

12 AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

MAYOR BOODY HELPLESS.
THE FRANCHISE GRAB CAN BE CARRIED BY THE ALDERMEN OVER HIS VETO.

It is expected that Mayor Boody will veto the resolutions of the Board of Aldermen granting important street railway franchises to the Nassau and Kings County Electric companies, and the Brooklyn City Company. The latter company has the right to the franchises in the Board of Aldermen are sufficient to override the Mayor's veto. When he vetoed the resolutions granting franchises to the Union Railway Company and to the Coney Island, Fort Hamilton and Brooklyn Railroad Company, the Aldermen promptly overrode the veto. His reason for vetoing the resolutions was because there was no money consideration offered to the city. The same condition exists at the present time. The Brooklyn City Company sent an offer of $250,000 for certain streets, but this was not embodied in the resolution adopted.

The Mayor refused to talk of the matter yesterday. He is interested in the passage of a bill before the Legislature which will allow railroad companies upon their tracks to erect buildings for the sale of their franchises.

A MISSING PICTURE FOUND.
The "Sketcher," a recently missed from the Art Association Building, where it was stored by the Brooklyn Institute after the fire in the old Institute Building in Washington. A member of the Institute saw the picture in the window of a dealer, and it was found that it had been purchased from the former dealer of the Art Building, W. H. Jackson, who was discharged last fall. It appears that there were some sketches which belonged to the late Gordon L. Ford in the cellar of the building, and the dealer says that he sold these and the picture in question, which was also in the cellar, to a dealer for $40. The dealer is under arrest, but it is not thought that he knew anything of the value of the picture.

MRS. BARLOW APPEALS TO THE COURT.
Mrs. Jesse A. Barlow, the wife of Dr. J. Barlow, of No. 178 Rutgers-st., obtained from Justice Goetzling, in the Los Avenue Police Court, yesterday, a letter directed to her husband warning him not to interfere in the putting up of a "For Sale" sign on the building, which was occupied by the doctor, with Mrs. Barlow. Mrs. Barlow says her property, which she claims to be in Philadelphia, is being sold by her husband, who has been declared bankrupt. She writes to Taylor & Fox, real estate agents, directing them to either sell or rent the premises No. 178 Rutgers-st. Dr. Barlow refused to allow a sign to be put up on the house, and yesterday Mrs. Barlow appealed to Justice Goetzling for assistance. Mrs. Barlow was accompanied to court by her daughter, Grace, who resides in her father's house, as alleged, he objected to her receiving the attention of a minister's son.

COUNSEL FEE ONLY FOR CORA TANNER-SINN.
Judge Osborne denied, in the City Court yesterday, the application of Mrs. Cora Tanner-Sinn for alimony in the suit brought by Colonel William E. Sinn, of the Park Theatre, to annul their marriage on the ground that he had been married to another woman. It is understood that the case should be speedily tried or the defendant can make a new application for alimony. Mrs. Sinn, who has ample means for present support, but that if the trial is delayed at the instance of the plaintiff alimony may again be sought.

TWO WOMEN SHOT BY AN ITALIAN.
What may prove double murder occurred in an Italian tenement-house, at No. 2 Harris Court, Brooklyn, last evening. Frank Cavara, aged twenty-four, a laborer, had a quarrel with his mother-in-law, Mrs. Marianna Cavara, and this evening, she upbraided him for not working and supporting his wife, who is fifteen years old. Stung by her taunts, Cavara drew a revolver and fired point-blank at his mother-in-law, and wounded her in the right breast. As she shrieked and fell to the floor Cavara started from the room and on the landing met Mrs. Louise Bonato, who lives in the same house, and was alarmed by the sound of the revolver. Cavara fired a second shot at her as she undertook to detain him, and wounded her in the left breast. He then made his way to the street, where he was arrested. The wounded women were conveyed to the Brooklyn Hospital, where it was stated that the injuries of both are dangerous. Neither bullet was removed last evening.

CONGREGATIONAL MINISTERS IN SESSION.
The ministers and delegates representing the Congregational churches in the New-York and Brooklyn Association assembled yesterday afternoon for the spring meeting of that body in the Wesleyan Memorial Church, at Herkimer-st. and Rockaway-ave., of which the Rev. S. B. Halliday is pastor. The Rev. Henry R. Waite presided and the records were kept by the Rev. Howard S. Bliss. After the transaction of routine business and hearing reports from the fifteen churches of the two cities and suburbs in the association, the Rev. Dr. J. G. Roberts, the Rev. Dr. Pratt and the Rev. W. S. M. Smith, of the Brooklyn Association, presented the Message, and a number of ministers present gave brief sketches of their sermons last Sunday. Among those present were Dr. Edward Beecher, the Rev. W. H. Ingersoll, the Rev. William Lloyd, Dr. J. G. Roberts, the Rev. Dr. Pratt and the Rev. W. S. M. Smith. At the evening session Dr. A. D. Bradford, of Montclair, spoke of "The English Congregationalist."

DINNER OF THE PRESS CLUB.
The members of the Brooklyn Press Club ate their first annual dinner at the Chatterbox Hotel last evening. About seventy-five were present, and W. H. Cady presided. Speeches were made by several of those present.

GATHERED ABOUT THE TOWN.
George W. and Ernest Schultz, inmates of St. John's Home for Boys, and their brother, Reinhold Schultz, who lives with his mother, have fallen heirs to an estate of $25,000 left by their aunt, Frau Krummhauser, of Munchen, Prussia. Their father, Dr. Reinhold Schultz, died several years ago. Their maternal grandmother, Mrs. Caroline Rosenthal, of No. 167 Livingston-st., New York, secured the appointment yesterday of Julia Schwickard as the temporary guardian of the boys in the Home. It is not known where the mother is.

The man who was run over and killed by a milk truck at Fulton Ferry early yesterday morning was Walter Jones, butler for John Gilib, of No. 150 Gates-ave.

District Attorney Hildguy has returned from California, and has directed the persons indicted in connection with the bills for the Columbian celebration to plead today.

Bridge Trustees Howell and Keeney were sworn in yesterday.

GOULD DE KERATRY A WONDERFUL OPTIMIST.
Count de Keratry, who is well-known in this country through his efforts to promote the cause of a Franco-American copyright, was among the passengers who arrived from Havre on La Gascogne on Sunday. His present trip is in the interests of the Franco-American copyright. He said to a Tribune reporter yesterday that the Columbian government had extended the time for the completion of the canal and that work would be resumed in two months. It would probably be finished in seven or eight years. The company had 200,000,000 francs and was not actually in need of American capital, but it was thought best to interest Americans in the enterprise.

He expected to get $2,500,000 in this country to aid the completion of the canal. Of the twelve districts it was proposed to have three from the United States, two from Bulgaria and seven from France. Count de Keratry spoke hopefully of the future of the canal. He declined to say who in this country was interested in it, or what his plans were.

He said that the present copyright law had done much for French authors and publishers, but that it was still harder on the French than on the Americans. In order to protect himself the Frenchman had to publish his work simultaneously in the United States and France. This was not convenient. The law should be amended so that a French book would be protected if a copy were put in the hands of the American Minister.

HE WANTED A WARRANT FOR A BUTTING HORSE.
John Devanes, of No. 84 Cortlandt-st., appeared before Justice Burke at the Tombs Police Court yesterday morning and asked for a warrant. He said that J. Patrick had a horse—an educated horse, which stood in front of his door in Cortlandt-st., hitched to an express wagon. Whenever any one tried to cross the street, the horse would butt him with his head. Yesterday afternoon the complaint had tried to pass the horse and the animal butted him on the nose. The man's face about the region of the nose was covered with plaster. Justice Burke refused to give him a warrant, as Devanes did not know whether he wanted the man or horse arrested.

NEW-YORK CITY.

Controller Myers was able to be at his office yesterday, but plainly showed the effects of his illness. He narrowly escaped a first-class attack of grip. Notice of the Corporation Counsel's application for the appointment of commissioners of estimate and apportionment for the year 1893, which was filed in the West Hall of the Harlem will be published in a few days. The proposed ordinance requiring all vehicles, including bicycles, to carry lights at night will be considered by the Aldermen's Law Committee at a public hearing to be held on Tuesday at 2 p. m. The young son of Mrs. E. F. Cockey, of No. 438 Lexington-ave., has sent his savings through Lunt, amounting to $4, to the Tribune Fresh-Air Fund. E. H. Smith, of No. 20 Broad-st., for thirty years a well-known broker, has removed his office to the new building at No. 8 Broad-st. Six dusky Malays arrived here on the steamer Berlin Monday. They are on their way to Chicago, where they will erect a Malay village on the World's Fair grounds. Henry Klode has been appointed on the Reception Committee of the fair manufacturers' dinner. Governor McKinley, who had expected to be present, will not be able to attend the dinner. The Typothetae yesterday elected these officers: President, Theodore L. De Vinet; vice-presidents, Douglas Taylor and William Charles Rogers; secretary, E. Parke Coby; recording secretary, W. W. Pasho, and treasurer, Horace G. Polhemus. Candidates for admission to the Railway Mail Service and to the Departmental service at Washington who were to be examined on May 4 must wait till after June 30, when the appropriation for 1893 will be available. A dinner in celebration of the promotion of William J. Dealy to the place of superintendent of the commercial news department of the Western Union Telegraph Company was given last night at the Central Opera House by the employees of the company. Nearly 600 people sat down to the tables. Thomas Freeman acted as chairman and E. J. Hutchinson as toastmaster. C. A. Meyer was chairman of the Committee of Arrangements, while W. E. Rath was secretary and E. F. Howell was treasurer.

CRIPPLED POLICEMEN MAY BE RETIRED.
The Police Board yesterday directed the surgeons to re-examine seven policemen who were declared to be permanently crippled some time ago, but were not retired. Hereafter the law has permitted the retirement of crippled policemen on pensions only by the unanimous vote of the Commissioners. Commissioner MacLean has refused to vote for their retirement, because he said the certificates of the surgeons did not show that the men had been disabled in the actual discharge of their duty. The law, however, has been amended so as to permit of the retirement of the officers by a vote of the majority of the Commissioners. At the next meeting of the Police Board the disabled men may be retired. The Commissioners yesterday promoted Roundsman Patrick Cully, of the Union Market squad, to be a sergeant in the East Thirtieth-st. squad. Superintendent Byrnes sent to the Commissioners a report by Captain O'Connor, of the West Thirtieth-st. station, justifying the recent arrest of nineteen female lodgers at the station. It appeared from the report that the women had been lecherous and disorderly, and that after arraignment in a police court they had been sent to the workhouse on Blackwell's Island. The report was made in reply to a complaint by Peter Thompson, secretary of the National Citizens' Industrial Alliance. The Commissioners yesterday dismissed the complaint which Mrs. Lillian Seefeldt recently made against Policemen Connolly and McGuirk, of the Jefferson Market Court squad.

SYRIAN PUPILS MAKING GOOD PROGRESS.
There is a little school down in Washington-st. It is over a grocery store, and there is a physician's office next door and a shop overhead. The pupils are Syrians. There were no pupils in the school yesterday, for the members of the Syrian society of the city of New-York were holding their annual meeting in the little schoolroom at No. 65 Washington-st. for nearly a year the society has conducted a school for Syrians, and the pupils have made good progress. "You ought to hear those children talk about geography," said Dr. Ameen F. Haddad, the secretary of the Syrian Society, yesterday. "The teacher shows them the map of the United States. 'What is this?' he asks. 'Our country,' they cry in unison, 'and before he can stop them they begin to sing, 'My Country, 'tis of Thee.' They are up in politics, too. They never lose a chance to tell that Mr. Flower is Governor of New-York and that Mr. Cleveland is President of the United States.'"

The Syrian society yesterday elected its officers. They are Dr. William M. McLaughlin, president, Dr. Ameen F. Haddad, secretary, and Mrs. M. H. Leverick, treasurer. The society will celebrate its first anniversary on April 25, by holding a public meeting at the First Presbyterian Church.
